Dear Mr. Hansen:

Our company, Green Media Creations, is collaborating with Nick Schneider of Mojave Water Agency (MWA) to promote free upcoming Qualified Water Efficient Landscaper (QWEL) certification classes. QWEL is recognized as a WaterSense labeled Professional Certification Program for Irrigation System Audits. Upon successful completion, graduates will be listed as a Certified Professional on the WaterSense website. These classes will be available to the English and Spanish-speaking, water-conscious professionals in your service area which may include people who are not landscapers, such as agency staff and other water conservation specialists. The QWEL certification classes will provide landscape professionals with 20 hours of education and professional training on the following topics:

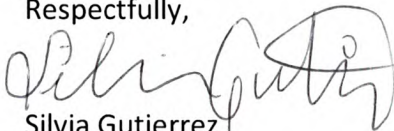

- Irrigation Systems
- Efficient Irrigation
- Soils
- Plants
- Water Management
- Where Your Water Comes From
- Determining Water Budgets
- Irrigation Scheduling
- Irrigation Controllers
- New Technology
- Putting It All Together
- Valve, Controller and Field Wire Trouble Shooting

The QWEL certification classes will also show water-conscious professionals how to perform an irrigation system audit. In order to obtain the QWEL certification, an individual must attend all classes and pass the mandatory QWEL exam.

MWA has opened these classes to all Alliance for Water Awareness and Conservation (AWAC) members. We are contacting you to form a partnership and ask for assistance in promoting the classes in your service area.

We will establish a date in these upcoming weeks and send you additional information of when and where the classes will take place. Please give us a call if you would like to learn more information.

Respectfully,

Silvia Gutierrez
